Fundraising Suggestions:

1. Bake Sale- Everyone's favorite! Include baked foods from around the world.
2. Car Wash/ Errands- Students can hold a weekend car-wash to raise money or they can make themselves available to run errands, do yard work or walk dogs, etc. Have them make up fliers to advertise their services and explain where the money will go that is earned.
3. Flea Market- Students and their families can get their books, used clothes, or hand-made crafts together to sell. Ask them to donate part or all of their profits to a particular cause.
4. Community Auction- Ask families, friends and community businesses to donate their specialties (including skills) to be auctioned off. Be creative! Some teachers and students have had themselves auctioned for a day of baby-sitting, or a day of museum-gazing with a child, etc. Teachers have made videos of their classroom over the course of the year and auctioned them off to parents. Restaurant and theater owners can donate dinners and seats to shows. This takes some organizing but can raise a lot of money for your cause, will alert the community and get many people involved. Students can create posters, canvas the neighborhood for donations, etc.

5. Costume Ball- Hold this event around Purim. Give it a theme. Charge admission.
6. Seasonal Celebration- Hold a seasonal pot-luck dinner. For instance, in autumn ask participants to bring a seasonal dish. Eat outside under colorful trees (or in a Sukkah during Sukkot). Organize simple games and activities to attract children to the event - leaf rubbings, scavenger hunt, story-telling, autumn poetry readings, etc. Charge admission.
7. Talent Show- Hold a student-teacher talent show. Sell tickets. Donate the profits to a cause.
8. Art Show- Hold an art contest where local artists and students enter up to three pieces of their art at $5 per entry. Try to get a local gallery owner to donate space for the event and recruit local celebrities as judges. You could also sell this artwork and donate a portion of the proceeds to your favorite organization.
9. Poetry Reading- Hold a poetry reading in your favorite cafe. Get students or family members to volunteer to read their own or other's poems related to hunger, homelessness, discrimination, etc. Pass the hat and ask diners to contribute. Explain where the money will go. Try to get local news coverage for your event --- this will also appeal to the restaurant owner whose establishment gets free advertising!
10. Read, Dance or Walk-a-Thon- Collect pledges from family, friends and community members for each hour or mile students walk or dance, or for each book they read.
11. Fast- Give up one meal a week, junk food for a specific period of time, etc. and donate the money you save to a cause. Get the school involved by going around to other classes and explaining where their money will go. Place large containers in each classroom in which students can place their change.
12. Birthday Donations- On birthdays students can ask parents, friends and grand-parents to make a contribution (money, time, or materials) to a special organization instead of buying a gift. Students can do the same for other people's birthdays. Make up a card for the birthday person explaining that a donation was made in honor of his/her birthday to a local organization. Explain how the organization works.

So You're Having A Bar/ Bat Mitzvah...

How can we add that special ingredient of Tikkun Olam, or fixing the world, to our upcoming simcha so that others may benefit from our happiness and joy?

It's really easy to find that special idea, the one you will enjoy working on and the one that will give you a special glow when you complete your work. In the process you will see how many other people's lives can be changed because you care.

Start by asking yourself a few questions:

1. What are the need(s) of the person, or people, whom we want to help?
2. What am I good at?

Answers may include: giving big hugs, playing soccer, baking chocolate chip cookies, talking on the phone for hours, being a computer whiz, or drawing or painting the most beautiful pictures.

3. What do I like to do?

In order to answer what you like to do you will have to think a little bit more. What activities give you the most pleasure? Can you sit and read for hours? Are you really excited about playing the guitar or keyboard?

4. What bothers me so much about what is wrong in the world that I weep or scream in anger and frustration, or am speech-less at the horror of it?

"What bothers you?" Are we tired of hearing that there are untold numbers of kids who go to bed hungry every night? Are you enraged when you think about what terrible things happened when the World Trade Center was attacked? Do you feel uncomfortable when you visit a nursing home and see so many people just sitting and staring into space? Now--turn what bothers you into Tikkun Olam and make a difference.

5. Whom do I know?

The classic example of "Whom do I know?": After the World Trade Center attack on September 11, 2001 we saw unprecedented giving and helping from all parts of the country. Some people raised money by making American flag pins with safety pins and beads. Others held bake sales -anything to raise funds to help the victims. The late George Harrison of Beatles' fame went one step further. He remembered how his own father, a firefighter in his native England, put his life on the line every time he went out to fight a fire and then used the "Whom Do I Know" principle to raise tens of millions of dollars for relief for fallen firefighters. How did he do it? He called all of his friends, the most famous rock stars we know, and brought them together for an incredible concert. The result? Millions of dollars for relief for the victims of the terror attacks.

Know someone who enjoys playing a musical instrument as much as you do and would like to join you in a concert at a local nursing home? Or, maybe you have a relative who is a dentist and is willing to give you dental supplies that can be donated to a dental clinic in Jerusalem? Are you and your friends ace soccer players who could teach kids at a homeless shelter how to play? There is no end to the answers to this question—you just need to think about it....and, do it!

And finally—

6. Why not?

"Why Not?" is generally the easiest of all: almost always the answer is, "There's no real reason why not. So,

Be thoughtful! Be creative! What comes from your heart and mind will be an important contribution to any Tikkun Olam effort.
