

Women of Temple Judea Catering

Thank you for your interest in having Women of Temple Judea assist you with an Extended Kiddush for your child's upcoming Simcha.

An Extended Kiddush is an opportunity to feed your guests after the morning service which normally concludes between noon and 12:15 p.m.. You will have the use of the Social Hall for 1 1/2 hours.

Many families choose to host an extended kiddush because they are having an evening party but still want to provide a light lunch for their guests. Others choose a more substantial meal because their evening event is geared more towards the youngsters.

Currently, WTJ offers several menu options which are detailed on the following pages.

You may bring in additional beverages (bottled waters and soft drinks.) Wine is not allowed. Additional desserts and candies may also be brought in. Many families also provide simple centerpieces which our Catering Kids will set out for you.

The time allotted for an extended kiddush is not sufficient for entertainment though some opt to have a slide show or video running in the background. Costs for a screen and/or microphone are nominal and paid directly to the temple.

Due to current state, county and city health laws, it is not possible to provide your own food. Should you desire something other than what WTJ is able to provide, please contact Scott Roeb, the Temple Caterer, at 310-472-3852, for additional options.

Feel free to contact us with any questions you may have.
